“ I don't know Alexis personally but we've had a few email interactions in our respective workplaces. She was always so pleasant and always had a can-do, will-do attitude. I remember once requesting something that was probably going to take quite a bit of time on her part and her response was very similar to "Sure! I'll get that to you!" This was my very first interaction with Alexis. No one was copied on the email, not her supervisor or mine. In other words, there wasn't an audience. She was just genuinely pleasant with no one watching. That's hard to find these days. My response was "You're the best..." I could not have been more accurate in my response. I pray for her entire family, friends, and loved ones during this challenging time. When it gets tough, lean on God. He is the ultimate source of comfort and take comfort in knowing that Alexis is resting peacefully with our Lord and savior. God bless each and every one of you.
