“ Bethany is my sister in law and never missed a chance to say hello to me and treat me like family. I am a very closed off hermit like person that regularly avoids people and she always made me feel good and welcome when I saw her. My heart aches that I failed to do the same for her. May God give her wings that she can continue to comfort those that are scared to deal with the world as well. Please God forgive those that failed her like I did and lift up praise to those that truly had her heart and were there when she needed them. Fly high and free Bethany as you are truly an angel to many <3
