Brendan Erinn Cavano has unexpectedly shuffled off his mortal coil and left us. Beloved son, brother, nephew, cousin, uncle and friend, Brendan was born on March 21, 1985 and passed on Jan. 23 of 2023. He was born in Birmingham, Alabama and moved to Tallahassee before he was one year old. He attended Astoria Park Elementary School, Cobb Middle School, and Leon and SAIL high schools. He also attended Tallahassee Community College and Lively Technical Institute.

Brendan was a musician, actor, philosopher and iconoclast. He appeared for years in theatrical productions around the Big Bend area. He loved animals and talked to them and about them as friends. He did landscaping, construction, air conditioning service, and held food service positions around Tallahassee and Wilkes-Barre, PA. He attended many local churches, and cultivated friendships with many different kinds of people. He had a warm heart, a skeptical mind, and an earnest spirit. He will be profoundly missed.

Brendan is survived by his mother Bethany Henley Cavano; father Arthur Thomas Cavano and his wife Nancy Rohter Fontaine; brother and sisters Victor Luke Cavano, Aurora Megan Cavano, Jenna Grace Cavano, Wren Liliana Cavano, and Carolina Lorayne Cavano; He is also survived by an array of fond uncles, aunts, cousins, nieces, and a nephew.
