“ I saved a voice mail from you and listen to it alot. I was only a little girl when you started loving me and inviting me into your home and letting me be another one of your kids. You were always a spiritual example that never let me down. You sure had your share of troubles, but you didn't let that stop ministering the word. When I go to church, I always look to your little corner and wish I could give you one more hug.
