“ Chuck was the devoted husband of my niece Cheryl Burd Taylor who preceded him in death. His warm and outgoing personality was evident in the friendships he made and in the frequent email correspondence we shared over the years. His brilliant mind kept him deep in research on the internet, verifying his findings with facts and sharing it all with me. He organized and managed a football pool for his beloved Seminoles. Chuck was a very strong person who lived his life to the full extent of his capabilities. He will be sorely missed by all who knew and loved him. I was his 'aunt' by marriage.

“ Thank you Chuck for allowing me into the pool the past few years. You were the architect of so many people having fun. I'm not sure if you ever knew how many people deeply respected you. You will be sorely missed by all. May God comfort your family and yet still celebrate that you are no longer suffering.

“ Chuck was an awesome guy. I'm extremely sad to learn of his passing. I knew Chuck online meeting through a FSU fan e-mail list we were both subscribed to. We had a lot of fun through the years sharing our passion for college football and specifically, FSU football. I'm going to miss that a lot. But moreso than that, Chuck was always there to offer advice on the medical side of things as I was trying to get the best care possible from various medical facilities for my dying Mother. His kindness in that regard will never be forgotten. R.I.P. Chuck. You're back together with Cheryl now, and physically freed to do all the things you want to do in a much better place. You will be missed here.

And one more time for old times sake...something he'll appreciate me adding here just because...

I think I'm going to have to take Otterbein over Heidelberg, but only because their field goal kicker looks like he has better range. It's a very tough call.

Chuck, I know you get it. Here's to you! Thanks for being my friend.

Rest in peace my friend. Although I never had the pleasure of meeting you in person, we got to know each other through Facebook and private emails. I loved your sense of humor and your intelligence!

You overcame so many obstacles and yet you always had time to respond and even did some research on my family name.

I will miss you my friend!

So sad to hear of Chuck's passing! We only knew of him online "Go Noles!" but he was always so kind and outgoing. We hope those closest to Chuck can find comfort and peace knowing that he isn't suffering. -The Jays
