“ I always enjoyed his company and he will be missed around the auction house. One day my dog gave him a small bite on his hand for playing with her ears. They both eyed each other down and buried the hatchet. From then on my dog got excited every time he came in. He was always a class act at my business and his word was solid as oak. I was not a super close friend, but I will defiantly miss him. His auction number 101 is retired from use in my auction house. Ray McNamara
