“ I met Clint in early 90s when he was a baby attorney and we partnered in a law firm practiced together for a couple of years.

He was a stand-up and honorable man. I have missed him since he moved to Pensacola in the 90s. Rest in Peace old friend.

My prayers go out to his large family.

“ In 1987 I had the privilege of serving alongside Clint in the Supply and Logistics Department of HMH-466, the Wolfpack, a USMC CH-53E squadron. I remember Clint as a quiet and very diligent young man. I am sure that his family is proud of his service to our country.
