

Coy Lee Howard

March 23, 1943 - January 13, 2012

Coy Lee Howard, 68, of Florida, died January 13, 2012, at his home in Crawfordville, Florida.

Mr. Howard was born March 23, 1943, in Moultrie, Georgia, to John and Trudie (Crosby) Howard.

He enjoyed working with his hands fixing lawnmowers, boats, restoring late model cars and fishing. He was known in South Georgia as being one of the best “body-men” around. Most of all he enjoyed being around his daughters, grandchildren, and great grandchild.

He will be remembered forever for his laugh and his joking sense of humor.

He is survived by his three daughters: Brenda Coston, Glenda Howard and Shree Hubmann; his grandchildren: Cliff Bostick, Carly Macri, Robert Prosser and Jared Hubmann; his great grandchild: Brodi Macri; his brothers: Leroy Howard, Raymond Howard and several cousins.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Ethel Lavern Howard.

Mr. Coy Howard’s ashes will be released on the Wakulla River, by his three daughters, as this was his favorite fishing place.
