“ Shared 12 years of life with her... had hoped to one day see her again and apologize for some things. Looks like her life turned into a life she wanted and liked. Shocked that she is gone...

“ I remember being best friends with Debbie in elementary school especially. Although we went to school from at least elementary through high school. We lost touch over the years, but I have So many wonderful memories of our childhood together. I wish we had gotten reacquainted as adults. My fault completely. Especially as we both ended up as nurses. My heart goes out to all who love her. I'm positive she's sorely missed. I'm sending up prayers for comfort but I, personally, find comfort in knowing that I Will get to be reacquainted with Debbie when I join her in heaven someday. Can't wait to get to know you again my friend.

“ You were the kindest most generous nurse I have ever met. You always had a smile on your face. You loved everyone you met. You were always calm and taught in a way that made everyone feel special. I will miss laughing with you. I will miss you terribly but will see you again one day! Love Sandi

“ Debbie was a really remarkable woman. She could handle any situation while being the most fashionable person in the room. Her style and class surpassed us all. She is loved by many and missed by all. God was keeping a pumpkin spice latte just for her.
