“ She really put the great in great grandma and I loved her very much. She would always help people in any way she could and support them. I even helped her in recent times when she needed help. The thing is she was trying to clean her house so that we could have Christmases at her house but it never got to happen.

Thank you for being there when others where not.

Love, Shelby

“ Dear Sister in-law, I wish we had had one more in person good bye. I'd tell you that I love you a hundred times, that I worried so much, when we first met, about how your life would turn out. You had a rough start in many ways but look at this - a mom, a grandma, and a great grandma. Lucky you! You were the first to introduce me to iced milk! Thank you for sharing stories about Michael. You helped Jenn connect with her Dad and sparked some lively discussions between us. I will miss our talks and your hugs and most of all your laugh. This old Yankee loves you bunches and bunches. Rest now sister. Jude Davidson

“ To have known Pat was a treasure, even on her quirky days. She was my son's great-grandma and great she was according to him and many others. She was a very loving woman, dedicated to her children, grandchildren and later on her great grandchildren. She was always a call or text away when you needed a friendly word or just to ask a wise question. Thank you Pat for instilling such strong impressions on us all for the years we all had with you.

With remembrance,

Kayla Sims

(I hope you have as many coke floats, milk with ice and chicken salad varieties that you can have up in there in heaven. Say hi to my dad for me ♡)
