“ It was my honor to know Faye Rentz and call her my friend. Faye and her family were kind to me when I served as pastor of Antioch Baptist church. I got to know her husband, Benny, before the Lord called him home and was dear friends with Faye’s brother, Charlie Mills, a deacon in our church, before he went to glory. I still remember Faye’s potato salad at our church dinners. It was delicious. I imagine Faye was a great cook and memorable meals were enjoyed at her table. She impressed me as having the gift of listening and saying the right word at the right time for family members and friends. It must have been quite a reunion for Faye on December 15th to see her beloved husband Benny and other beloved family members and friends who went before her. There is a void by her leaving us but we know where she is; she isn’t lost, she is home. A conflict in my schedule prevents me from attending her homecoming service of Saturday. Otherwise, I would be there to show my respects for a woman I admired greatly. Our prayers are her son, Ronnie, her beloved grandchildren, and great granddaughter, Kaylee and so many others touched by this special lady.
