

Gambhir Man Shrestha

December 11, 2025

Dr. Gambhir Man Shrestha, age 87 of Tallahassee, Florida, passed away on December 11, 2025. Born in 1938 in Lalitpur, Nepal, Gambhir's life was defined by his deep commitment to faith, family, education, and learning.

For over 35 years, Gambhir served at the Florida Department of Education, evaluating standardized testing programs. His passion for teaching extended to the classrooms of University of Florida, Florida State, Tallahassee Community College, and Florida A&M University, where he was known for his rigorous standards and genuine care for his students' success.

Gambhir completed his undergraduate studies in Kathmandu, Nepal and his Masters at Allahabad University (India). He then went on to receive a Doctorate in Mathematics at the University of Liverpool (England). Later in his career, Gambhir received a second Doctorate in Educational Administration from Florida State University.

For much of his life, Gambhir was active in the Nepali community in Tallahassee and was a member of the American Nepalese Association.

Gambhir strongly valued his faith and was a deacon of Immanuel Baptist Church.

Gambhir is survived by his three children Natalia Shrestha, Gary Shrestha, Eric (Kristin) Shrestha and grandchildren Romulus, Skyler, and Leo. He is also survived by brothers Gopal (Premlata) Shrestha and Girish (Jasmine) Shrestha.

He will be dearly missed by family and friends.

Niki Carney of Bevis Funeral Home (www.bevisfh.com or 850-385-2193) is assisting the Shrestha family with their arrangements.

“ Gambhir was one of the most caring people I have ever known. His deep love for his family and friends, his kindness to all he encountered, his love of the Lord, and his encouragement of others will always be an inspiration to me. We are sad, but the angels are rejoicing that he has joined their heavenly chorus. I know that he has now joined them in watching over us. Rest well, dear Gambhir.
