“ Hard to believe that you would be 17 now. No doubt you would be the lover boy of the county with that sweet smile! Miss and love you lil man. Never forget the day you took me looking for blueberries and was having the time of your life throwing me around the golf cart! I'm gonna eat a Little Debbie and glass of milk just for you and Steve tonight. Love you pumpkin!

“ I sit and think about how big you would be and what you would be doing. I remember that lil toddler that marched into my life - right into my heart. You are so missed and loved. I know heaven must be amazing and you are seeing things that the mind cannot even imagine. But I still wish you were here with us. Love you lil man.
