“ Bud and I worked in DivCom for years. Whenever one of my family junk cars died or had to be in the shop (which was often in the late 80’s and 90’s) I could always count on Buds generosity for a ride. We also shared many discussions about people, politics and work which always ending with a laugh. Bud saw humor in the every day nutty things that can occur in a state office. I recall that he covered his office window entirely with thoughts extracted from things printed on labels or words of wisdom like “Caution do not bend, fold, or mutilate ” or “only the Paranoid survive”, “Batteries not included”.....

Bud will surely be missed.
