“ For 21 years I've known and been a neighbor of Jimmy. Such a BIG heart, hard working family man. Until yesterday I did not know his last name, he was listed in my phone as "James next door". I will miss you. I will never forget you. My life has one less friend in it now. Give Robyn a hug for me.

“ Jimmy was tough as steel, silent, but golden. He always hugged my neck when we would see one another. And then he would give me that grin and ask me “Stayin’ outta trouble” as he knew I always had something up my sleeve. I will miss those hugs and the laughs we shared just talking about nothing at all. Rest easy Jimmy, you’ll forever be in our hearts!

“ There are so many memories I could share it would be mind blowing. But the one I want to share isn't really mine. You see our mother, Odalene, was his biggest fan. For 5 years it was him and her a love so great a bond so tight that when I came along Momma thought there would be conflict and jealousy. But there was none only love. Momma told me she let him name me because he didn't like the name she picked for me. So instead of Rita I am Debra Kay said together like one name. I thanked him often about that. When he told us he was leaving to go make a life of his own Momma threw him a party and even while her heart was breaking she smiled thru it all. Standing in the kitchen bags packed he said “I love you Momma. I'll call you Sunday no matter where I am at 7 o'clock pm. I promise”. He was 17 and for the next 16 years he kept that promise. She would wait for that call and he never disappointed her. They'd talk for long periods of time. We never knew what about and neither one never said but she's be on cloud nine for a few days. Some years after her passing he confessed that every Sunday he still picked up the phone dialed her number then put the phone back in its cradle. We never said goodbye we always said “I love you I'll see ya later”. So....
I Love You! I'll see you later Bubba
Have Robyn set a plate at the table for me and a pony Miller beer.

“ Jimmy was always the silent, strong family member in the background. He loved my niece Robyn with all his heart. He was such a giving loving partner, father and Papa. We should all strive to be such a sweet humble person. 😭
