“ Lori, Ed and family: My fondest memory of Jason is as a toe-headed little boy who just adored Danny whenever we visited many years ago. My heart goes out to you.

"It has been said, 'time heals all wounds.' I do not agree. The wounds remain. In time, the mind, protecting its sanity, covers them with scar tissue, and the pain lessens. But it is never gone."

I so wish I could be there with you and for you, but I am here anytime you want to talk. Please take care of each other and think of your happiest times with Jason. Sometimes that helps. I love you all.

Our Love, Mom and Nichole and the rest of the family here in Pennsylvania.

“ To the love ones of Jason,

Nothing I can say, can make anything easier for anyone. I have a letter that Jason wrote a day after we lost our son. The last line...I thought I would share because they are his words. Jason Wrote "I believe in second chances and forgiveness.I am forever sorry for the pain you have entered, but without pain we can't enjoy and honor love..I love you". He is right, and even though he was taken, no one can take the love we have for him.

*With all my love,
Amanda*
