“ When Jason was young, he talked really slow. He wasn’t deficient in any function, it was just the way he was. It’s brings back so many memories of him running to aunt Sharon and saying, “Mommmm, theyyy’re pickkkk-in on me.” Just being a bunch of kids we laughed and we knew it would take awhile to get yelled at before Jason was able to spit it all out. Lol. I feel bad now doing that, although we weren’t doing it to hurt him. He grew out of it and was still a quiet soul. I do not remember Jason ever doing or saying one mean thing to anyone. He was always a sweetheart and a great cousin. Growing up together is something I wouldn’t change for the world. I pray you are having an amazing family reunion with your mom, your dad and Ryan.
