“ I remember the Lacon father and son fishing/camping trip. Jeff got stung by a swarm of bumble bees, when he was rolling a log to the fire. Luckily, I had a bee sting capsule in my first aid kit. I remember when Jeff was a little kid, he had to wear glasses, but outgrew the need for them. He was at least able get to see the CUBS win a World Series. He was a great kid, and a fine person to have on your side. I'll remember you til I join you. A friend.....Gip
