“ Wendy & Mike,
My sincere condolences to you both, along with your family. No parent should ever have to face what you are going through. I am truly sorry and heartbroken for you.

I remember when you and I were pregnant at the same time. Your dad was so excited to have a grandson and my mom was so excited to have her first grandson. They had something together to share and talk about and “brag” to each other about as they both got to watch their first grandsons grow up. I heard so much about Jesse from your dad. He loved those boys and was so proud of them. I miss Bruce and my mom dearly and know that Jesse is now probably entertaining them in heaven! May the Lord give you peace and surround you with His love today and the days ahead as you mourn the loss of your sweet son.

Much love,

“ A lot of fabulous, bittersweet memories were made in a short time when Jesse and I became friends. Like, our group of 4 or 5 ditching school for the river after weightlifting class, exploring the art downtown, dancing around bonfires and staying FIT; keeping your heart strong and immune boosted! Thank you for always pushing me to my max, and for being there to help my way through it. The last time I saw Jesse was somewhat recent, within the past year in a random passing in Publix. Conversation was short, for he had a cute gal with him, but I'm so glad I have that last memory to add into my life with Jesse. Xo, carry on, Jesse. You are missed, you are cherished.
