

Jim Norman

January 5, 1941 - March 4, 2022

Jim Norman was many things; he was a salesman, a businessman, a pilot, a motorcycle rider, a sailor, a guitarist, a competitive shooter, and a bit of a gunsmith as well. But more than all of those things he was a husband, a father, and a grandfather. Jim Norman was a father-figure for many people and he touched more lives than he probably ever knew. He was a man that overcame, persevered, and pursued relentlessly.

He was the kind of man that set his mind to a task and never settled for less than complete mastery. He set an example for those behind him to follow and he set a bar that will be difficult to reach by another. He was a man of quick wit, sharp intellect, and sometimes coarse verbiage. He was an adventurer and a daredevil that was always ready to put rubber to road. And he loved his family dearly.

He raised two children with his wife, and then became a grandfather to three grandchildren. To many in his business world he was known as “stormin’ Norman,” but to his grandchildren and his family he was simply “Papou.”

Jim Norman was born on January 5, 1941 and passed away on March 4, 2022 at the age of 81. He is survived by his two children, Trey Norman and Hallie Zeigler and by his three grandchildren, Trey Nicholas Norman, Jacob Huggins, and Melissakay Zeigler. Words cannot adequately express how greatly he will be missed, but his lessons, love, and legacy will live on through his family.
