“ Mr. Larry was a good fellow. He taught me so much about surveying in the few short years that I worked with him. He had alot of patience with this ole boy. I remember one time surveying in a swamp and after crossing a wet area he asked for my data collector. I reached down and grabbed it off my hip ( after he told me to put all electronics up high) and water was dripping from it. He just shook his head and said,, "Leta go back to the office . We will start over again, tomorrow. " That is the definition of grace.. Mr. Larry will be missed.
