“ Matt was a gentle soul who was very easy-going and so lovingly devoted to his family. I will especially remember two special times with Matt. For Thanksgiving last year we planned a family reunion of Helen's side of the family in a lovely, large cabin in the mountains of North Carolina. We spent several days together and had the opportunity to relax, catch up on all the family news and share some laughs. I so enjoyed conversations with Matt sitting around the large outdoor fireplace. Another special memory that stays with me was at my mother's (Matt's mother-in-law) 89th birthday celebration. While some of her favorite oldies played in the background, my mother turned to Matt and reached for him to dance. Without missing a beat, Matt took her hands and swayed with her to the music. I often recall that sweet and loving moment. Living in Connecticut I only saw Matt once a year but I came to admire him for his loyalty, love and happiness with his wife, daughters and all his family. I also admired his brave battle with brain cancer and enduring several aggressive treatments to conquer it.
Dear Matt, you will be sorely missed.
