“ My condolences to Pam's family. I feel like I know each of you as over the years we shared many stories during our Thursday morning stained glass class. Pam was one of the most caring people I have ever known and I will truly miss her.

“ My sincerest condolences for Craig, Payth, Cheryl, Ms. Sue and the family. As Rick and Michael have commented on the Tribute Wall, we student football managers were extremely lucky in having two sisters (Pam and Sue) at FSU who took care of us and were our mothers away from home. I cherish the memories of working with Ms. Pam almost every day, the Thanksgiving meals and other special events at her house. As young men growing up, I am even more thankful when Ms. Pam would put us in our place, with a few choice words and correct our behavior when we were in the wrong. Another little known talent that Ms. Pam had, which was cutting hair. There was nothing like the Ms. Pam quality time, sitting in the chair, while she cut your hair, talking about life and receiving all the wisdom and guidance she imparted on you during that time. Best haircuts I have ever received. May God bless you Ms. Pam, you will be missed. We love you.

“ My sincerest condolences for Payth, Cheryl, Craig, Ms Sue, The FSU Student Equipment Mgrs. (Pictured) and all of those who knew and loved Mrs. Pam. I am wishing you all, peace, comfort, courage, and lots of love at this time of sorrow.

I to was one of Pam's adoptive kids ( former student mgr), who benefited from her nurturing and loving spirit. As an African American student attending FSU from 1986-1990, she stepped on as my college "Mom" , holding all of my other NoleBros. accountable as we matriculated through school.

I will forever cherish the time spent and the memories 🙏

I love You Mrs. Pam ❤️

“ So sorry to hear about "Mrs Pam's" passing. My condolences to Payth, Cheryl, Craig, Ms Sue and all of those who knew and loved Pam.

I spent my first two years at FSU helping Pam with the football team laundry. She was kind-hearted and was my "FSU mom" during my time at school. I'll never forget her taking me into her home when I was sick -- think I spent 3 days in Woodville with her and Bill trying to get over a nasty virus. Seriously, the sickest I've been in my life and she got me through it.

As any FSU fan knows, Thanksgiving week coincides with the football game versus the Gators so all the coaches/players/staff had to stay in Tallahassee to prepare for the game. Pam and Bill would have all the student equipment managers out to their home for Thanksgiving dinner. What a special time fellowshiping with her, Bill, Bit and Lil Bit (their two dachshunds).

I last saw Pam a few years ago during an FSU Reunion at the stadium. She looked great and gave me a big hug. My oldest daughter was with me. She was in her second year at FSU and I wanted her to meet all the special people I got to know during my time at FSU. Pam went out of her way to tell my daughter that "your dad is really good guy". That meant the world to me.

Love you Mrs. Pam, rest in peace.
