“ I will miss you so much, friend. 💔
I know that you had to have known that so many people cared about and loved you, I guess I just wished you knew the magnitude of just how many of us, and how much. I'm glad that you're immortalized in so many of our memories though.

(Late 2012: I was visiting Tallahassee for two weeks. You ripped my brand new black and red fishnets this night, at Pug's for Blue Monday, when you playfully kicked me in the butt and your boot got stuck on them. Lol. I remember us laughing about it. I'll never forget your laugh. We were friends for thirteen years, but I think this is the only picture in existence of us together.)

“ Pat could always spin a good story out of anything and kept you laughing. I will always remember Pat as a kind soul. Thank you Pat for being "a brother to Carter" and for the special bond you both shared. You will be missed but never forgotten...we will see your smile & the twinkle of your eye when we look at your little boy, Odin.
