“ Memories.. gosh... I have so many... One was when Phyllis was only about 16 or 17, she had my brother Buddy and I with her like they always did. We all walked into a store, I think we were about 10 or 12.. maybe younger. The person at the counter commented on how cute HER kids were.. lol.. she very quickly informed her we were cousins NOT her children.. she was too young to have us as children!!

And not sure any of you remember the movie "The Hand".. well it was a horror movie and Phyllis took us to see it. If you saw it you know that hand would come out from under everywhere... Buddy and were so scared and she made us ride in the back seat, we stood on the back seat scared to put our feet down because the HAND would come out from under the seat and grab us.

... I have others...
