“ I met Ramsey through her FaceBook page via another heart support page. I am so sorry to hear about her passing. She was such an inspiration to so many. I am especially sad for her parents. I too lost a son at 20yo (I see that she was almost 20yo) from sudden cardiac death. My heart is broken for you since I remember that raw pain and the years it takes to find peace and "normal" living after the passing of your child. Sending caring love and peaceful days your way.

“ I remember meeting Ramsey via Facebook around January 2010, just before Broken Hearts of Florida held its Regional Forum on Congenital Heart Disease. Reading about her, Facebooking with her, I immediately knew she loved her family, adored her friends, and enjoyed everything life had to offer. When I met her in-real-life at the Forum, I knew there were few people in this world who loved life or lived larger than Ramsey did.

Ramsey Layne Brown, you were one-of-a-kind. Sometimes your Heart Warrior's fight and other things in life got you down, but you always managed to find the bright side, the positive, the lesson in everything. Your Broken Hearts families will miss your wisdom, your laughter, your smile. You were a human sparkler. None have or will shine brighter. God bless you and keep you, Ramsey.

“Sweet, funny, sunny Ramsey. I have fond memories of my visits to Tallahassee and our lunches with Katie, Dawn and Anne. Memories of our fun phone calls about who was going to be the choice of the Bachelor or Bachelorette--and trying to get you NOT to tell. Memories of you and Katie and I working to elect Pres. Obama. But, most of all, I will treasure the memory of the friendship you shared with my daughter, Katie Juckett. You girls sat only a few feet apart from each other everyday at G.T. for the past five years. Your relationship grew from co-workers to true and genuine friends. You shared the ups and downs of all aspects of each others lives. You and Katie had a unique bond. Your passing has devastated her. But you taught her to "fight the good fight." She will never forget you. And I know that every time she puts on some hot pink and black, she will think of you--her buddy Ramsey. God's peace to Ramsey's entire family. I'll sign off not as Susan Juckett, but with the sweet name you called me-Mom Juckett

“My family and I send our prayers to the Brown family. She brought a fun spirit to our legislative office and always made me laugh especially when things were intense. She was strong for all us.

“ I have only known Ramsey for 2 very short years, but each time we contacted each other was special and it felt like we had known each other for years. Ramsey's a very special person, whom I will miss so very much especially our little chats. I have a photo of us from our last meeting a couple of weeks ago which I will treasure for ever. (and of course my gift) Our thoughts and prayers go out to Teresa & family.
