“ As a child you were my protector. As an adult you were my example. Even though we did not speak often, anytime life was throwing me curve balls you showed up, or called. I can still hear you playing with your toy army men at night when the bedroom lights were off and when we were older, see you on the living room floor in front of the stereo, headphones on, listening to albums and 45's. You were the perfect example of a brother, a husband, daddy, and granddaddy. My heart hurts for Cindy, the girls and all those grandchildren now grieving your passing... Mama is shattered in a million pieces. I'll take care of her. I love you big brother.

“ Scott and I were coworkers and friends at the Florida Forest Service. We spoke almost daily about work, family, friends and football. I miss him very much and it seems so unreal. I am truly thankful for the years that I knew him and all the wonderful stories about his grandparents and his grandchildren. He loved his life with Cindy and all their years together. He was a devoted follower of Jesus Christ and we encouraged each other when needed. Thank you, Scott, for showing us a life well-lived.

“ Scott and I shared a love of old cemeteries, historical places, and our family history. I loved his upbeat personality, his positive nature, his ability to forgive, and his contagious laughter. I loved him. We had so much more left to explore and talk about. I want him back!!

“ When I moved to Tallahassee several years ago, Scott was one of my very first best friends that I made here in the area. I enjoyed our lunches, and work days at the cemetery clean ups, and driving back and forth with each other going to events here and there. Scott also helped me stop smoking, I won't go into the details of how, but I wouldn't have been able to do it without him being there as a friend to me. He always talked about his love for his family as well. I will miss my buddy. I will see you soon one day brother. Jay Lindsey

“ I enjoyed my phone calls with brother Scott talking about anything from family, history, politics, and his love of out door cooking on his big grill he so fondly spoke of given to him by I do believe it was from his daughter. Scott's a good God fearing man and the Lord gained a wonderful right hand man. God Bless!
