“ I count myself lucky to have known Richard for almost 30 years. We shared a love of plants, history, and just about everything else. We seldom agreed; but our disagreement forged a lot of understanding between us. We NEVER came close to agreeing Carr's stockade was anymore than a reinforced stockade vs a 'fort' as Richard believed. But that was ok because we educated each other. I learned a lot from Richard.

Our paths crossed in so many ways - our direct ancestors fought on the same Revolutionary battlefields, served in the same Gadsden County Confederate Army Company - and we both shared a love of the land in Wilkes County.

Richard is my friend. And I am grateful for all that I learned from my friend. My friend's soul is at peace and I am glad for my friend.
