

Rosemarie Inez Campbell

July 27, 1927 - April 9, 2018

Ro, age 90, passed away on Monday, April 9, 2018, surrounded by her immediate family. She was born in Everett, Massachusetts, to the late Pasquale and Marie Fiorentino.

Family was always Ro's passion and delight. Her fondest memories were of her brothers, parents, cousins, and her home state of Massachusetts. As her own family grew, her children and grandchildren were her life's fulfillment and were always first in her thoughts.

Until recent years, she could be found entertaining, always offering up her home as a hub of family activity, laughter, and food, food, food! Ro was a wonderful Italian cook, and no one ever left her home hungry. There was always enough for one more guest at her table which happened often. When you were Ro's friend, you were also family.

Ro was a Medical Lab Technician and worked until retiring at the age of 70. In her early days, she was a cancer researcher with the Jimmy Fund and worked at Children's Hospitals in Boston and Washington, DC, until she married and started raising a family of her own. Motherhood was her focus in life, and she loved it.

Ro was the last living member of her immediate Fiorentino family and considered herself an "orphan." As of Monday, she has been reunited with her loving son, Clayton Campbell, and her family--no longer an orphan. Ro is survived by her children; Lisa Denman (Tommy), James Campbell (Cindy), John Campbell (Mikki) and her 10 grandchildren.

A Celebration of Ro's Life will be held at Bevis Funeral Home and Crematory on Saturday, April 14, 2018, at 11:00 AM with a visitation at 10:30 AM.
