Sydney Margo Fuller

(February 11th, 2000 - February 26th, 2021)

Age 21, Beloved mother to be of Rosalee Olivia Christina Martinez, Transitioned with her precious baby bump on February 26th, 2021 in Tallahassee, Florida due to complications with her pregnancy.

Sydney was born on February 11th, 2000, in Tallahassee, Florida to Christina Murphy (Tim Mann), of Leesburg, GA, and Mark Fuller of Harrisburg, PA. A homemaker, Sydney was looking forward to becoming a mother and pursuing her education in the field of psychiatry.

Sydney was a sweet person inside and out. She loved God and was generous with anyone she came into contact with. Gratitude was the attitude Sydney embraced in her life. If you were blessed to have ever experienced her beautiful bright smile and vibrant personality, you can count yourself fortunate to have encountered a genuine, and beautiful soul. To know her was to love her.

Sydney is survived by her loving and protective big sister Kassie Riedesel (Yancy Crook), Silver creek GA, the late Granddaughter of Norma (The late John Towbridge), of Steeleville, Mo, the late Walter and Margaret Fuller of Tennessee, and beloved niece of Elizabeth Miles of Steelville, Mo. Sydney was preceded in death by her brother Simon Riedesel, of Tallahassee, Florida.

Sydney lived life passionately as was evident by the love story she shared with the love of her life, fiancé Moses Jaanai Martinez. Affectionately known as “Jig & Syd”, their love story was epic and pure. They did everything together and loved each other in a way that inspired others to believe in love. Sydney also leaves behind her second family, her mother, and father in-love Sheryl Robinson (Louis Robinson), Sisters in-Love Jordyn Robinson and Goldyn Robinson, Brother In-love Louis D. Robinson Jr. and Grandparents in-Love Sheryl Christian, Cassandra Cason, and John Simpson. Along with special friends and loved ones, who were like family to her.

Besides spending time with her family and the love of her life Sydney enjoyed travelling, listening to music, dancing, watching movies, eating her favorite snack foods, and caring for her pets (Dog) Max and (Cats) Olive, Pickle, and Bean.

The families of Sydney Margo Fuller are intertwined by the love shared between their children. “Our love for her continues in our hearts,” her family states. “We are tremendously grieved over her passing, but we celebrate a life well-lived and well-loved.”

Luke 8:52 Meanwhile, all the people were wailing and mourning for her. “Stop wailing,” Jesus said. “She is not dead but asleep.” Requiescat in pace, sweet Sydney.

A private family service was held to celebrate Sydney's life and her memory “ Me & Sydney’s friendship blossomed into more of a family dynamic. We were inseparable at the young ages of 12-14. We went to the same middle school whenever we met & ended up living right across the street from one another. We were young curious souls exploring the world, living freely with not a second thought, always spontaneous moments we shared & very vulnerable with one another about our home life’s. I moved quite often, but anytime I was in town we would always find our way back to one another, we hit it off like always like we’ve always been around one another. Always a comforting feeling with Sydney. The most beautiful soul, patient, kind & understanding. Just kids trying to figure the world out & ourselves. I am so thankful Sydney & I crossed each other’s paths. I am forever replaying our memories whenever I drive throughout Tallahassee. I see pictures & videos of her to this day & always am memorized by her beauty! Truly within & out. Sydney I love you so much, & think of you all the time. Your last words to me; you said I was like family, & I’m beyond thankful for that last message. With peace & love I will forever remember you. you are always in my mind & heart & our memories will forever live on. I hope you’re flying high & exploring in the universe with your baby! Enjoying the sensation of truly being free. I love you Sydney, I meditate & I imagine us as angels holding hands together & flying. I love you Sydney, you are now free more than ever & have all your answers. You are free baby, enjoy everything!

“ I met Sydney about 3 years ago, we hung out once and I never saw her again. Until September of last year, I was going through a rough time & she reached out to me to hangout and catch up so we hung out the next day and literally every day after. I got to know who she was for the fun, loving, sassy girl she was. I'm blessed to have the memories I do have with her, I am sad she is gone but happy she is at peace. My heart goes out to the family & Jig. She loved you so much Jig. We all know this though. Rest In Peace baby girl.

“ I had the pleasure of spending almost an entire summer with Sydney years ago. I remember staying up late with her, talking about everything and anything and just having the time of our life's together, not worried about a single thing. She was always in such a good mood and never failed to make everyone in the room laugh. I had just spoken to her not that long ago. I hate that our last conversations were short, but I'm so thankful that I can look back on them and be reminded of what a wonderful person she was, and always will be. I am so sorry to anyone who didn't have the pleasure of knowing Sydney, she truly was a wonderful person and I hope she is resting in heavenly peace up there. You are so missed sweet girl. Love you always.
