

Vivian Cirlin Grayson

July 16, 1924 - February 21, 2015

Vivian Cirlin Grayson, (90), a resident of Tallahassee, since 2000, passed away on February 21st. She was a loving wife, mother, grandmother, sister and aunt. Born and raised in Chicago, she moved to Miami Beach in 1940. A local reporter and publicist, she married the late Herman Grayson and raised her family there. Going back into the work force in 1984, Ms. Grayson worked at FIU School of Nursing until 2000. She and her husband of more than 50 years moved to Tallahassee and enjoyed watching their two grandsons grow up to be young men. Ms. Grayson was very involved in current events and was an avid fiction and non-fiction reader and spent enjoyable time at local bookstores. She was also a frequent attendee of the Tallahassee Taoist Tai Chi Society. She is survived by her sons Matthew, of Los Angeles; Andrew (Lori Savage), grandsons Adam and Zachary of Tallahassee, a sister Babette Glazier, of Chicago and a brother, Byron (Shirley) Cirlin, of San Diego, California, five nephews, three nieces and their families. Ms. Grayson was preceded in death by her parents Dr. Marcus Cirlin and Jeanette Fishlove Cirlin, husband Herman, son Jonathan and brother Huber. In lieu of flowers, the family suggest a donation to any of the following, Big Bend Hospice, Alzheimer's Project of Tallahassee or Congregation Shomrei Torah.
