“ To the family and close friends of dear Walter:
May you find comfort in the promise found at John 5:28, 29. There we learn that one day "all" in the grave will awaken to life on earth. (Psalm 37:29) The earth at that time will be free from suffering and death. (Psalm 37:11; 145:16; Revelation 21:4) As we await this grand time, know that you are invited by our Creator, Jehovah God, to "throw all your anxiety on him, because he cares for you." (1 Peter 5:7; Psalm 83:18) If you would like to learn more as to the condition and future of those that have fallen asleep in death, please visit www.jw.org. Take care and please accept my sincerest condolences.

“ I will miss my friend Walter Ray who was a lover of True hip hop music & basketball. We were roommates in the 90's & I will never forget our trips to Panama City, Florida...

He SO was! We would drive around for hours after he or I got off of work and listen to Hip Hop. I never understood how he could remember who was who ,and who wrote what, and the director of this was that.. Lol"

He actually made me FB stalk you, Darren, because he missed you guys so much.. Always talked about you. Best times of his life. I heard so many of his stories about you guys I called it a "bromance". The word annoyed him, but he always smiled.

Hello Jaan....Wow we use to do the same thing or sometimes just park and vibe to the music. That's nice to know you had a positive affect on someone or ppl. The last time I saw him we were supposed to start hanging again...don't know what happened though

Darren Battle - August 10, 2014 at 07:39 PM

He just had a lot of stuff going on. Never stopped loving you guys. He said the same.. "We were supposed to hang out aging but..". You guys were always in his thoughts..

I didn't know I had such an affect on him which make me more emotional about the whole situation. After that last time we saw each other I tried to communicate a few times but not much feedback. I could somewhat sense something was going on. It's hard to tell what someone might be going through sometimes. I had another close friend commit suicide in may so this is really tough for me.

We were best friends for nearly 20 years of my life. I met him in middle school. We dreamed up every "facebook idea" before the web was ever around. We were gonna be millionaires. We went to Vegas together when we were 21, drove straight from Tallahassee... 31hrs in his black civic. We played basketball everyday after school, listened to hip hop ALL day and night long. He introduced me to Doug E Fresh, LL Cool J, Fat Boys, Run DMC back in early-mid 80s. It never ended.. I still love hip hop because of him. I remember his beautiful daughter Asia as a newborn. The time I spent with him over the 20 or so years we were tight was immeasurable. I have never had a friend as close as he was to me back in the day. I tried to reunite with him a few times over the past 4-5 years and it never happened. I wish I had tried harder. I miss you Walt. You were a brother to me. RIP.

“ Walter was my very best friend for the last 6 years. Despite many ups and downs, we were always there for each other, even near the end. Knowing him was one of the brightest spots in my life. His super intelligence, goofy sense of humor, and amazingly huge heart for his family, myself and the people he cared about were the reasons that I loved him so much and always will. I could have never imagined my life without ever having him in it and am very honored to have been a part of his. Until next time, my love.
